PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING

JUDGE McCLEAN TELLS OF THE FIRST SCHOOL HOUSES IN TOWN

Report of Delegates to Mother's Congress—Music Demonstration.

The Parent-Teachers' Association completed the third year of its existence with the meeting on last Friday evening and with a larger audience than at any previous meeting, an audience that filled every seat, occupied the window sills and there were those who had to stand.

Mrs. Wm. Arch. McClean presided and after the reading of the minutes, Miss Alma Lower of McKnightstown, delighted the audience with a piano solo, a mazurka in E flat. Miss Lower is a graduate of Peabody Institute, Baltimore, and gives an interpretation of music that is rare.

Judge Wm. McClean presented to the High School a framed picture of the first school building, the log school house that stood on Carlisle street where the Reformed parsonage is located. In presenting the picture Judge McClean said it was a long time since he started to school in that log school building presided over by Miss Matilda Scanlan, a teacher whose name deserved perpetuation in the school annals of the town. She was an Irish lady, a good hearted lady and distinguished by a large green umbrella she carried. She was the first primary teacher in town Judge McClean had any knowledge of. The front part of the school house was used to store wood in, there being no coal in town in those days and when children were very bad they were put in the dark room alongside the wood pile.

There was another school house near at the junction of the Mummasburg road and back of it a field ran to the Tiber. In this field the children played and it was there Col. John McClellan made his balloon ascension. There was another school house on southwest corner of High and Washington streets where Miss Keech taught and this was attended by speaker. There was another brick school house on East Middle street where the Utz sargum factory later stood. Then on High street we had the only stone school house in the town, where an Irishman known as Billy Clark taught the children. He had a great fondness for Irish potatoes and would allow the children to roast them in the hot ashes. In those days May 1st was always celebrated and Mr. Clark would take all the boys and girls to Spangler's Spring where the May pole would be erected and a May Queen chosen.

The picture of the first log school would always be useful to show the advantages enjoyed to-day as compared with the past. Judge McClean said he was born in the administration of Governor George Wolf, a man who did more to establish the public schools than any other Governor of the State and the two granddaughters of this Governor, Miss Louisa Wolf and Mrs. Emory Plank deserve honor for what their grandfather did. In conclusion the great influence of the Parent-Teachers' Association was referred for the good of the schools and children.

Prof. W. A. Burgoon extended the thanks of the High School for the gift of the picture.

Miss Reba Miller, the Parent-Teachers' instructor in music in the school gave a most interesting demonstration with a class of 24 boys and girls, in reading music and singing, showing the great value this course has already become.

When reports of committees were called for, Mrs. H. B. Geiselman read the report of the Visiting Committee and attention was drawn to boys who smoke cigarettes. The Membership Committee reported 11 new names, making a total of 240 members. The Music Committee reported tags sold on Farmers' Day amounting to $103.18. Two prizes of $2 and $1 were given to children selling the most tags and balance paid the treasurer of $104.18. The Music Committee reported arrangements made with Miss Reba Miller for teaching music for balance of school year. A bill of music books of $29 being assumed by the School Directors the sum of $29 was voted to be donated to the High School Orchestra for its very urgent needs.

The delegates to the Mother's Congress at Erie were Mrs. Wm. Arch. McClean and Mrs. Edward Pfeffer and Mrs. McClean made a report of the congress in part as follows:

The Fourteenth Annual Meeting of the Pennsylvania Congress of Mothers at Erie, began with a reception which was attended by about 500 people. We missed this function, arriving in that city late after a long day's travel.

The report of State President Mrs. George K. Johnson, demonstrated that the work has been carried forward in this State until Pennsylvania stands second in the national work—and this with only one paid worker, the field secretary—paid by our State President. After the Mothers' Congress had been organized in 1889 the first work was the formation of Parent-Teachers' Associations, and now there are 100 associations in the State and 8,000 members. They have had a leading part in establishing Juvenile Courts and the Probation System—and having these courts, the President declared, we are now urging the next step—to keep children out of them.

Mrs. Gilpin, of Philadelphia, chairman of Trusteeship of Mothers' Pension Fund in the State, stated that they are receiving 10 to 20 applications daily and investigating each, but as yet have money to give out. Here is a work for the home association. Have the County Commissioners take advantage of the new law and then see that proper mother's pensions are distributed.

Dr. J. George Brecht, Secretary of the State Board of Education, told of the problems surrounding the education of the million and a half of school children in this State—one of them being the tremendous waste. And one of the source of waste in schools was declared to be ill health. What is needed is better health through proper feeding;—and better health through home and school sanitation. Good school housekeeping and clean environment will make for moral character. There is woeful ignorance of proper food values; a condition responsible for backwardness and restlessness and poor health in children.

Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson, Director of Better Babies Bureau of New York, spoke on "Education for Parenthood" and declared that the penalties paid by ignorance should not be possible in another generation. The care of the potential mother and the care of infants should be included in education. She spoke of sex hygiene—and a resolution was adopted in line with Mrs. Richardson's advice, that it is the duty of parents to teach sex hygiene to their children—and the wisest course would be a system of instruction for the parents,—so to qualify them to teach their children.

Professor Welsh gave a detailed outline of the work in Philadelphia for public recreation and social centers. Miss Mary C. Garret, Superintendent of Home for teaching speech to Deaf Children, told of her wonderful work and had a boy there to demonstrate the work.

In the reports from Parent-Teachers' Associations in the State, Gettysburg easily lead in accomplishments, with Allentown and Somerset coming next,—the work of former being fresh air schools, stress on school yards, free lectures—and the latter with supervised play and sewing, cooking and basketry.

Mrs. Henry O. Holland of Buffalo, gave a great inspirational talk a "Challenge to Mothers." The challenge being that all reform movements might be abolished if the children were properly brought up—and this would be when mothers consecrate their lives to the service of rearing properly the little ones committed to their care.

A vote of thanks of the Association was extended the ladies who represented the home association at their own expense.

The observance of Apple Day in the schools was interestingly described. Miss Helen Cope told of how the 129 pupils in High School came prepared with apples and at a signal every one started to eat an apple and at the conclusion they all marched around the room and put the cores in a bucket. Miss Elizabeth Rummel of the Meade School Building told of the surprise given the teachers. When she at a certain part the more than one hundred pupils rolled apples down the aisles and there was more than a bushel of apples for the teachers. Miss Rachel Scott said there had been apple rolling in High Street School Building but the day was observed by agreement with the children that at 5 o'clock in evening all would eat an apple.

When election of officers was reached, all the officers of the past year were unanimously re-elected. Mrs. Wm. Arch McClean, president; Mrs. E. A. Weaver, vice president; Miss Maud Miller, secretary; and J. E. Musselman, treasurer.

The banner contest proved that more parents were present than at any previous meeting and Mrs. Wible's school won the Home and School banner with 20 parents.

An Editor With No Policies.

We noticed in last week's issue of the Star and Sentinel, that the Editor, in an editorial, starts out by bestowing upon us a compliment, for the policy we have set forth; for which we kindly ask him to accept our sincere thanks; but as he continues, he seems to have an inward fear of the final result. We would say to him, Fear not, the result will be right, we do not intend to enlarge our policy, we do not mention any specialties; only what are embodied in our policy and on this policy we shall do as we say: work and vote: on this policy the great majority of the taxpayers of the borough are for us, who, then, can be against us, unless it be the Editor of the Star and Sentinel. In the matter of borough appointments we will follow the example of those who held the majority in the past; when the majority was on the other side they worked and voted on the principle "to the victor belongs the spoils," and it came to pass that it was so ordered.

We are well aware of the fact that we will be only one member of the next council; but we are glad to say that we will be one with the rest of the majority who will represent the people properly and work and vote for the best interests of the taxpayers; we have no rough edges to be knocked off.

All the Editor of the Star and Sentinel has said in his editorial can be likened unto a bubble; it has burst without creating any commotion and has passed into space. We would advise the Editor that in the future when he has anything to say, he should say something and tell the taxpayers of the borough something that they don't know and not what they already have a thorough and accurate knowledge of.

59TH TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

FULL TURN OUT OF TEACHERS AT INSTITUTE

First Session—Welcome—Response and the Addresses of the Instructors.

The 59th Annual Institute convened in Walter's Theatre at 1.30 p. m. Music by Institute, led by Professor Ira L. Taylor, Miss Miller pianist, and orchestra of five pieces. Devotional exercises conducted by Rev. F. E. Taylor of the Presbyterian Church, prefaced by appropriate remarks in which was set forth the importance of the teachers' profession and a thorough appreciation of the work in training the plastic mind of our children.

Report of Executive Committee and Committee on Reading Course was presented. After a few preliminary remarks by Prof. Roth, Prof. Frank W. Moser was introduced and delivered the address of welcome.

Isaac Walton said "that doubtless God might have made a better berry than the strawberry, but doubtless he never did." "Doubtless there might be created a better county than Adams, but doubtless no such county exists. Let me welcome you in the name of the children who daily sit in your class rooms. In the bosom of every child lies a dream city. It is yours to help to the opportunity of catching visions of a wider life."

Response by Prof. J. Everett Myers of Huntington county, saying in part: "We are living in a period of great activity in mental training, we are trying to build strong characters in our schools—from these instructors we here expect to receive inspirations which may tell in our schools."

Address by Prof. Harbold, principal of Millersville State Normal School. In opening he said: "I bring to you the greetings of Lancaster county teachers who have gone to work after a successful institute. In treating his subject, 'Unconscious Elements in Teaching,' he said: 'We are teaching something about the ways, manners and customs in teaching. When we conduct a recitation it is important that teachers have correct models. Two groups of unconscious teaching, namely, careless and unimportant, slovenly in our language, not careful in the choice of our words. The teacher's attitude of mind in regard to work—toward truth—toward progress or change, should be in harmony with the subject, thereby making impressions upon the school without manifesting apparent effort.'

Prof. Chas. H. Albert from Bloomsburg State Normal School had as his subject, "Underlying Principles in Teaching." It is difficult to present to teachers guiding points in their work. How many of you knew before you came here what you were coming for, naming three reasons or moving impulses: 1st, because paid for it; 2nd, from either one of two reasons, because you had to, because you could not stay away, or 3rd, because you love your work. "Call of the Wild," "Call of the North," "The Lonesome Pine," were referred to by way of illustration. The call is to the truth, 55 per cent. of children go to school 5 years, 11 per cent. high school, 4 per cent. college—statistics from Washington of the condition of schools in U. S.

Education is that which enables an individual to do what he ought to do, whether he wants to do it or not. Public school course should embody the idea. The hand trains the hand and the hand trains the heart—that is, the shop one day; the school, the next, which embodies intellectual training and manual training. Learn to read well, learn to spell correctly, learn to write legibly, learn to figure accurately are the fundamentals in an education. He urged the importance of thorough training for the work of teaching.

Music. Dr. C. T. Colegrove, from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, author of "The Teacher and the School," spoke on "The Educational Equation." Illustrated the idea of teaching for love—by the lady who was expected to punish an unruly pupil called pupil out upon platform and said to him, I cannot punish you—burst into tears and requested pupil to punish her—pupil begged pardon and thereafter became most obedient and lived in love to end of term. The Dr. compared the institute to a school, with this difference—the teachers are the pupils—the instructors are the teachers for the week—and it is expected that they know their lessons—what they are going to say—not read from books—so teachers should be prepared—know their lessons—spoke of great inventions in the last fifty years, and the attitude of the teacher should be to keep in touch with the marvelous advancement of the age. The educational equation is to answer, what we get out of the school we put advancement and progress into school work. We expect pupils who go out from our schools to do some work—89 per cent. will meet the experience that they must do some work; look for a job; are they fitted for the work, is the serious question. Schools should look down the avenues of the future, should train for the needs and wants and cares of the home. To be good citizens, lovers of our country, children should be taught how to spend the wages of their toil—not in dissipation but to increase their power for useful rational enjoyment. Against all evil they should be taught ability and power to stand up against temptation, teaching what will enable children to go out into the world with strong healthy bodies. Put into school know-edge of essentials—skill in work of the school, efficient in what they do, so far as persistent effort can make. The pupils should be taught obedience so that when they go out into the world they will not come in contact with the law but become honorable citizens, leading honorable, worthy lives.

Dr. Andrew P. Johnson, on Monday evening delivered a forceful lecture on "Eli and Dennis," which being interpreted meant the successful life illustrative of "Get there Eli" and the unsuccessful "His name was Dennis." In clever metaphor and story he pictured the only really successful life of doing things, of serving mankind and not in making money.

End of November Court.

The business of the November court finished last week was made up of nine indictments by the Grand Jury, trial of one criminal case and trial of two civil cases. The work of Grand Jury was as follows:

Com. vs. Wm. T. Colehouse, assault and battery charge on oath of Josephine Colehouse was found a true bill and case continued to January court.

Com. vs. Otto Mitchell, colored, assault and battery charge on oath of C. H. Wilson, was found a true bill and defendant was paroled for one year to be of good behavior and remain sober.

Com. vs. Paul Shultz, assault and battery charge on oath of Mrs. Annie Stoner was found a true bill and case was continued.

Com. vs. Chas. Rcass, colored, carrying concealed weapon, on oath of C. H. Wilson, was found a true bill. He told the court a smooth tale of travels and carrying a razor for shaving and was sentenced to one month in jail unless costs were paid, then he was to be discharged.

Com. vs. Wm. Black, colored, assault with intent to commit murder charge, on oath of C. I. Tyson, was found a true bill. This was the shooting case in bar room of City Hotel, and as pistol was not pointed at any one and the shots went wide of doing harm to any one and only damage to property the court charged he could not be found guilty of an intent to commit murder and he was acquitted.

Com. vs. Wm. Black, colored, carrying a concealed weapon, revolver, charge, on oath of John Shealer, was found a true bill and defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to six months in jail to be reduced to two months by payment of $50 for the damage done in firing off revolver.

Com. vs. David Reese, carrying concealed weapon charge, a revolver, upon oath of Sheriff G. R. Thompson, was found a true bill and case continued.

Com. vs. Huber Penn, fornication and bastardy charge was found a true bill and case continued.

Com. vs. Walter A. Small, had been returned on six charges of furnishing liquor on Sunday and there was one true bill and defendant plead guilty to two of charges as told in last issue, was fined $50 and had his license revoked. The other cases were not prosed.

A number of Quarter Session cases were continued, as follows: Com. vs. John A. Collins, assault and battery on oath of Sarah Ellen Collins; Com. vs. Clarence Yenser, assault and battery on oath of John L. Dougherty; Com. vs. Harry Albright, fornication and bastardy on oath of Rosy E. McKinney; Com. vs. Peter Stoner, charged with rape on oath of Flora Shultz; Com. vs. Chas. Patterson, shooting with intent to commit murder, being the case where colored excursion woman was shot; Com. vs. Paul M. Stoner, charge rape on oath of C. H. Wilson, and Com. vs. Oliver Miller, assault and battery charge on oath of J. A. Plank.

A number of cases were reported settled. The case of desertion against C. Milton Wolf, on oath of Virginia Wolf was settled and articles of separation were entered into between parties, releasing each other from all obligations.

A number of cases had been disposed of before court by defendants pleading guilty, and being sentenced by court, as in cases against John H. Jones, assault, Charles Patterson, practicing veterinary medicine without license, Victor R. Simpson, abortion, John N. Miller false pretense.

In case of Com. vs. E. J. Treiber, charged with false pretense and forgery on oath of Mervin S. Kennedy, defendant had been released on habeas corpus.

CIVIL CASES.

Biglerville Water Co. vs. C. H. Musselman, trading as Musselman Canning Co., was the first civil case tried being ginned on Thursday. There was no court on Wednesday. The claim of the plaintiff was for $119.65 on an alleged consumption of 105,930 cubic feet of water. In support of claim certain meter readings were produced and explanations offered were that after meter had gone 99,999 cubic feet the meter repeated itself. The defendant alleged that the quantity was a mistake and should be 5930 cubic feet and that meter had never repeated itself. John Heritz, a meter expert in employ of Harrisburg City Water works made a wonderful demonstration. Without any previous examination of meter he told what condition it would be if working properly after 105,000 cubic feet of water had been measured and the condition it would be with only 1,000 passing through, then taking meter apart he showed the jury that the conditions were exactly as he had described with but 5,000 cubic feet gone through it. After a very brief con-tation of case the jury found a verdict for plaintiff for admitted amount due of $6.67, J. D. Swope, Esq., for plaintiff, J. L. Butt and Wm. Hersh, Esqs., for defendant.

C. S. Martin vs. Eagle Metallic Copper Company was tried and verdict given plaintiff for $87.10. J. D. Swope, Esq., for plaintiff, Wm. Hersh, Esq., for defendant.

Several cases were settled. First National Bank of York vs. Eliza J. Warren, two notes for $51.93 and $103, were satisfied. C. S. Duncan, Esq., for plaintiff, Wm. Hersh for defendant. Samuel C. Swab and S. Helen Swab, trespass case against P. M. Mishler, was settled by payment of $100 to plaintiff, J. L. Butt, Esq., for plaintiff, J. D. Swope, Esq., for defendant. The remaining five cases were continued four against John R. Bittinger and one between Clinton Mehring and Alex H. Rebert, and sickness of defendants was cause of continuance.

Weddings.

MILLER—COOPER.—At the home of the bride on Baltimore street, last Thursday evening, Miss Mary Edna Miller, eldest daughter of Mrs. L. D. Miller, and Dr. Linfred Lindale Cooper of Tyrope, were united in marriage by Rev. J. B. Baker. About fifty guests were present. The home was tastefully decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums. Before the ceremony Miss Josephine Rinedollar of Taneytown, sang "O Promise Me," and Lohengrin was played as party entered parlor. The bride wore a handsome gown of bridal satin trimmed with silk shadow lace and chiffon, with short train; she wore a short veil, and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lillies of the valley. The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg High School and Irving College and is a graduate nurse of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia. Dr. Cooper is a graduate of Delaware College and Medical Department of University of Pennsylvania and recently was appointed medical examiner for Pa. R. at Tyrope where they will live. Dr. and Mrs. Cooper went by auto to Hanover and then by train to Tyrope.

MATHIAS—STORY.—A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eckard, near Westminster, on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6, 1913, when their niece, Miss Maud Ruth Study became the bride of Mr. Oliver Myers Mathias, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mathias, of Littlestown. Promptly at 2 o'clock, the bride and groom entered the parlor, where before a large bank of ferns, autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, they were met by their pastor, Rev. J. Luther Hoffman, of Silver Run, who performed the ceremony. The bride was very becomingly attired in a handsome gown of white embroidered net over white silk, with white gloves and shoes, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her veil was of tulle and was caught up with orange blossoms. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Ella and the late Harvey Study, and a grand-daughter of Mr. Emanuel Study, of near Kingsdale. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mathias left by auto for Westminster taking train for Baltimore, Washington, and other places of interest. Her traveling suit was tailor-made and was of a new gray shade, with hat and gloves to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Mathias will reside near Littlestown.

Myers, president of the Lemoyne Trust Company, in Camp Hill, a native and former resident of county. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas McCarrell, pastor of the Mid-town Presbyterian Church. The house was decorated with palms massed with chrysanthemums made a striking background for the wedding party. Miss Alice Myers, niece of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Ruth March of Hampton, this county, was the bridesmaid. Wilbur Brown, supervisory principal of the Belmont schools, Philadelphia, was best man, and John Myers, the bride's nephew, was the usher. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, was attractive in a handsome white gown of embroidered voile, with trimmings of satin and old lace. Her veil was crowned with orange blossoms and she carried a white prayer book. The attendants' gowns were of white tulle over white satin and they carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Edward N. Cooper of Camp Hill, played the wedding music. Lohengrin's march was used as a procession- al, and before the ceremony Miss Alice Myers sang "O Promise Me" and afterwards "O Perfect Love." After the ceremony, a buffet supper was served. The yellow and white color scheme was carried out in the table appointments. The couple left on a southern honeymoon most of which they will spend at Old Point Comfort. The bride's going away gown was of dark blue with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Garver will reside in Middletown where the bridegroom is principal of the High School. Gov. Tener to Head National League

"I would rather be president of the National League than United States Senator," Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania made this remark to several close friends more than a year ago, although at the time he probably had no idea that some day the National League men would ask him to accept the presidency of that storm-tossed organization. It is expected now that the management of the eight clubs in the league will unanimously request Governor Tener to assume the duties of president.

The president of one of the clubs is quoted as saying: "I have known Gov. Tener for 25 years and he is splendidly equipped for the task. He is a big man in every sense of the word, and his election would mean harmony among the club owners; also that the league's affairs would be conducted with keep judgment and diplomacy and that the dignity of the National Commission would be increased twofold. Governor Tener knows baseball from every angle. He was a great ball player when he wore a Chicago uniform and he has never lost interest in the sport. He is well versed in the politics of the game and commands the respect of every man in organized ball. I hope, for the welfare of the sport, that he will become our next president."

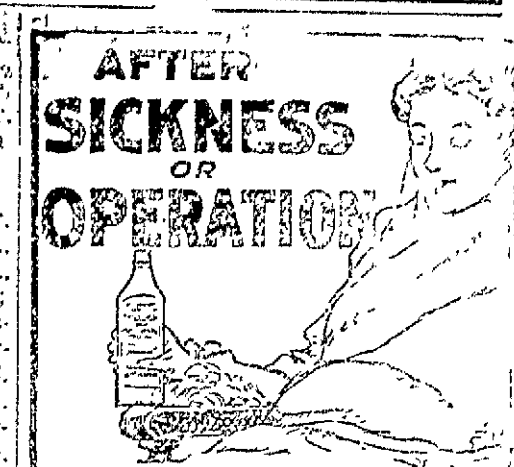

Governor Tener's term of office does not expire until January, 1915. He may not decide to resign the Governorship after all, inasmuch as the Pennsylvania Legislature does not convene next year. There seems to be no reason, therefore, why he cannot accept the league's presidency and remain Governor at the same time. Baseball men who are on the inside say that Gov. Tener will make known his willingness to take the presidency at an early date. He will receive an offer of a term of not less than five years at $25,000 a year, the salary now drawn by President Ban Johnson of the American League.

To Occupy Original Jenkins Home.

Bernard S. Jenkins, who is now residing at Irishtown, with his family, will, about April 1, 1914, move to the old and original Jenkins farm and homestead, at the site of the old Lily mill dam, beyond Irishtown. Francis C. Smith, who now occupies the farm will take charge of the large farm owned by the sisters of St. Joseph, formerly known as the O'Bole farm, adjoining McSherrystown. The Jenkins family, who were among the first settlers in that section, located upon this farm, and it has been in the Jenkins name ever since. Bernard S. Jenkins, who will remove to the premises next spring is the eldest son of the late Judge John L. Jenkins and grandson of Wm. S. Jenkins, and will be the first of the kin to occupy the farm in 37 years. At the death of the late Samuel L. Jenkins, this farm with another farm of 112 acres, located in Hartford county, Md., was bequeathed to Bernard S. Jenkins, his nephew. After residing on the latter farm two years, he disposed of it at a high figure and returned to Irishtown to occupy the old homestead next April. It will be remembered that for 16 years prior to the death of his old uncle, and benefactor, Bernard S. Jenkins was superintendent of the farm and grounds at St. Joseph Academy, at Emmitsburg, Md.

AFTER SICKNESS OR OPERATION

It is a pathetic mistake to accept drugs or alcohol mixtures when nature craves nourishment to repair the wasted body and restore the vigor of health. For forty years the best physicians have relied on the whole some predigestion nourishment in Scott's Emulsion which is totally free from alcohol or opiates. Scott's Emulsion sharpens the appetite—renews blood—nourishes nerves—strengthens bones and restores the courage of health to make life bright. Scott's Emulsion sets in action the very forces that promote health; it is pure, rich strength.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Gettysburg People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. There is no better recommended remedy.

Gettysburg people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Samuel Beck, farmer, Ontanna, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time and they have proven

Don't Worry.
"Don't worry" was the recipe for long life recently given by an aged physician who had preserved his youth.
"Good advice, but impractical," you say. But did you ever give it a real trial? A person can't stop worrying merely by saying, "Go to, now; I am not going to worry any more." The more he thinks about stopping the more impossible it is to stop.

There is a way, though. Don't consciously try to stop worrying, but get interested in something else.
If you have something to worry about and give yourself the opportunity, you will do a lot of worrying. But if you keep busy you won't give worry a chance. When a great sorrow comes a person may simply abandon himself to it by letting his other interests lag. But by looking about for something to absorb his attention he can put himself in a wholesome frame of mind.

Worry can be fought the same way.

John Bright and Queen Victoria.
In the "Life of John Bright" the author relates that the great man's first visit to Queen Victoria was an ordeal, but it passed off well. The incident was described in a letter from Lord Granville to Mr. Gladstone in which the writer says:
The beginning of dinner was awful—the queen with a sick headache and shy—Princess Louise whispering unintelligibly in my ear and Lady Cliff-den shouting ineffectually into the still more impenetrable receptacle of sound belonging to Charles Grey. Bright like a war horse clamping his bit and dying to be at them. At last an allusion to children enabled me to tell Bright to repeat to her majesty his brother's observation. "Where, considering what charming things children were, all the queer old men came from." This amused the queen, and all went on merrily.

When Buzzards Are Helpless.
Some of nature's most active creatures show strange helplessness under certain conditions. Place a buzzard in a pen six or eight feet square entirely open at the top, and the bird will be as absolutely a prisoner as if it were hermetically sealed in the inclosure. This is because buzzards never begin a flight from the ground without starting on a run of three or four yards. If they cannot have that preliminary run they either cannot or will not attempt to fly, and so a buzzard will remain a prisoner for life in a jail with a wide open top.

So with the bumblebee. One of these lively insects dropped into a goblet or tumbler will remain there always unless taken out, because it never notices
the means of escape at the top.—New York Sun.

Eating Your Meals.
A perfect digestion is the secret of the buoyancy and clarity of a really healthy man. The state of your body and mind at the time you partake of a meal are a big feature as to the digestion of the food will do you. If physically and mentally tired always-rest for at least ten minutes before eating. Bad temper is enough to give you indigestion, while cheerful company and interesting talk causes the muscles and juices of the stomach to work properly. It seems incredible that such inferior forces should be of importance, but science will not be denied. Sooner than eat when not properly hungry, miss a meal. Never take food more than three times a day; you will soon accustom you to this habit.
Take your meals in a well ventilated room.

Ehrlich and His Books.
Nobody ever dares disturb the systematic chaos of Professor Ehrlich's library. Once he lent a man some books and received others in return.
One day, long afterward, Ehrlich's books came back with a note from his friend, saying he had married, moved and cleaned up his library. Ehrlich replied: "I congratulate you on your marriage and thank you for sending back my books, but if you think that because you have moved and got married I am going to clear up my library and find your books, you are very much mistaken."—"Men Around the Kaiser"

Careless Wife.
Husband—Where is the hammer?
Wife—You had it yesterday. Busband—I'm not asking where it was yesterday. Wife—You had it yesterday, and no one else has had it since.
Husband—Hub! Well, if you had the least bit of consideration for my feelings you would have used that hammer for something or other after I had done with it, and then you would know where it is! London Express.

Removing Labels.
To remove the label from a jar or bottle is often rather difficult. This method is always successful: Wet the label thoroughly and then hold it near a fire for a moment. The steam thus generated immediately acts on the paste or gum.

English Coins.
The sovereign, value 20 shillings, was first used in 1826. In 1890 the largest coin in general use in England was the noble, value 15 shillings.

Stored Rubber.
Two Russian scientists have decided that distilled water is the best preservative for rubber that has to be stored for a long time.

If we make the most of opportunities, opportunities will make the most of us.—Old Saying.

Well Known Veterinarian of Emmitsburg, born in this County Passes Away.

The two brothers were in pursuit of a pheasant and George, complaining of feeling unwell, sat down on a stump. When Denton returned in a few minutes he found his brother unable to walk. Denton ran down to Daniel Utz's where he phoned for his brother, Charles, to come with a team. The ailing man was lifted into the vehicle and expired in a couple of minutes. ALLEN WILLIS STALEY, the 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Staley, of Germany township, died about midnight Wednesday, Nov. 12. On Tuesday the child had been sleeping in the kitchen when fire broke out during the absence of the parents, and it is thought death was due to the inhalation of smoke. Funeral last Saturday, interment in Littlestown Cemetery.

SAMUEL RESH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Resh of York county, died at his home near Vicksburg, Union county, Saturday, Nov. 8, aged about 23 years. About two months ago he became ill from typhoid fever, but was convalescing, when he ate a small quantity of peanut candy which caused a relapse, and a hemorrhage followed, resulting in his death. He is survived by his wife and a small child. He is also survived by his parents, three brothers and five sisters—Miss Mary and Howard Resh, at home, Elias Resh of Penn township, Mrs. Ralph Feeser of Union township, Mrs. Wesley Wildasin of Hanover, Mrs. Charles Colehouse of Parkville, Mrs. John Strawsbaugh of York, and Michael Resh, whereabouts unknown.

Rescued From Well.

Naomi Noel, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Noel, of Abbottstown, fell in an old well containing about seven feet of water and was nearly drowned. The girl was walking over the pump-bed, and in the dark did not observe that the trap-door was open, it having been removed unknown to anyone of the family, earlier in the evening. Unaware of her danger, Miss Noel stepped into the opening, and was precipitated into the well.

The screams of her sister who was with her soon brought Mrs. Nagle to the scene. Mrs. Nagle rushed to the woodshed to secure a pole, but the shed was locked. After a hasty search around the premises, she secured a small pole and hastened to the well. The child, who had come to the surface of the water the second time, caught hold of the pole and after some struggle was brought from the well. By the time the child was safely landed, a large crowd had gathered on the scene.

Dr. Lessig Kills Large Deer.

One of the largest deer ever killed in the South Mountain was killed by Dr. John Lessig from Schoolkill Haven, Pa., who is a member of the Arendtsville Hunting Club. The animal proves to be one of the old native deer and a perfect specimen, weighing 225 lbs., with 14 perfect points, 7 on each side. This powerful animal was brought down by a shot in the right shoulder, penetrating the neck and coming out the opposite side. Dr. Lessig can well feel proud of his good fortune as the gentleman was hunting with a hunting club composed of some of the most cunning deer hunters and expert rifle shots in this section of the mountains.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 19, 1913

WHY NOT A TOWN GEN. MANAGER?

The new Town Council to organize January 6, 1914, will face a condition of very serious importance. The town's expenses for years have been running ahead of its income, and the town has a debt near the limit of its debt carrying capacity without a vote of the people. The condition has almost been reached that no floating debt is possible for current expenses, for when the debt incurring limit is reached, the town fathers are without power to raise money on the town's obligations beyond debt limit without a vote of the people. Municipal housekeeping must be brought within income at the present tax rate if possible. If that can not be done the tax rate will have to be increased.

Before any increase in the tax rate, the system of borough housekeeping should be overhauled to find a way to live within income without any loss of the present borough conveniences and protections. The present system of town housekeeping—what is everybody's business is nobody's business—is obsolete. A few paid officials who give odd moments to the job of town housekeeping are not equal to the demands. What is wanted is that the town housekeeping should be put upon as sound a business basis as the most successful mercantile business of the place and this can only be done by a paid official giving, if necessary, his entire attention to the business.

An expert in municipal government recently declared that "the scraping the old municipal machinery represents an advance, the commission form represents a more substantial one and the city manager plan a still greater one."

The Compiler proposes for Gettysburg and asks of the members of the Town Council, serious consideration of the highest and most efficient form of town government—city managership.

To adopt this system requires no delay or waiting upon a change of the law as the commission form requires. The general borough laws give all boroughs the right to appoint and remove such officers, prescribe their duties and allow them such compensation as they may deem necessary to secure the peace, order and well being of the inhabitants and to enforce the ordinances and regulations of the borough. The corporate officers are given the duty to appoint a treasurer and secretary.

The new Town Council of Gettysburg can give the town the general manager government by simply passing an ordinance providing for the appointment of one new officer entitled, Secretary-Treasurer-General Manager and prescribe that the duties of this one official shall be such as now performed by the Secretary, Treasurer, Street Superintendent, Surveyor, Sewer Inspector, Market Master, Committees of Highway, Light, Sewer and Property.

Following the form of an ordinance adopted in Staunton, Va., where that town has been re-created and put on a business basis by a general manager, an ordinance for Gettysburg could read as follows:

1. Be it ordained and it is hereby ordained by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, that there be appointed by the Town Council as soon as possible after the adoption of this resolution and thereafter annually at the regular election of borough officers in January of each year an officer to be known and designated as Secretary-Treasurer-General Manager.

2. The Secretary-Treasurer-General Manager shall hold office for the term of one year and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified unless sooner removed by the Council at its pleasure.

3. The Secretary-Treasurer-General Manager shall be paid an annual salary of — Dollars per annum to be paid by the borough, the amounts to be hereafter fixed by the Council.

4. The Secretary-Treasurer-General Manager shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall have entire charge and control of all of the executive work of the borough as street superintendent, sewer inspector, surveyor and market master. He shall make all contracts for labor and supplies except such in excess of $— to be after approval of Council and in general perform all of the administrative and executive work now performed by the several standing committees of the council except Finance and Ordinance. As General Manager he shall discharge other duties as may from time to time be required of him by the Council.

5. The Secretary-Treasurer-General Manager before entering upon the duties of his office shall execute a bond in the penal sum of $— with good and sufficient security conditioned for the faithful performance of all duties of his office and application of all sums of money received by him.

The belief is entertained that the services of a general manager would not cost a penny in excess of what is now paid to the several officials named, who give only odd minutes to their work.

This form of general manager government has been tried in a number of places and has worked wonders, the result being a successful, satisfactory, economical and efficient town housekeeping.

RUNK & PECKMAN'S REALTY REPORT.

Now is the best time in the year to make quick sales. If you have a farm, town property or business, which you are anxious to sell, don't delay coming to see us. Buyers are about through "looking around" and are ready to do business. Ask just what your property is worth, that is, be willing to sell for what you would be willing to pay, were you buying instead of selling and you will be surprised how quickly we will sell for you.

Don't list your property with us unless you want to sell. We do not advertise for fun or to see our name in print, but to get in touch with prospective buyers who read our advertisements each week. We have a large number of good prospective buyers, whom we have been unable to suit in location and price. Let us know what you have to sell. Your property may be just what one of these buyers want. If so, you will make a quick sale.

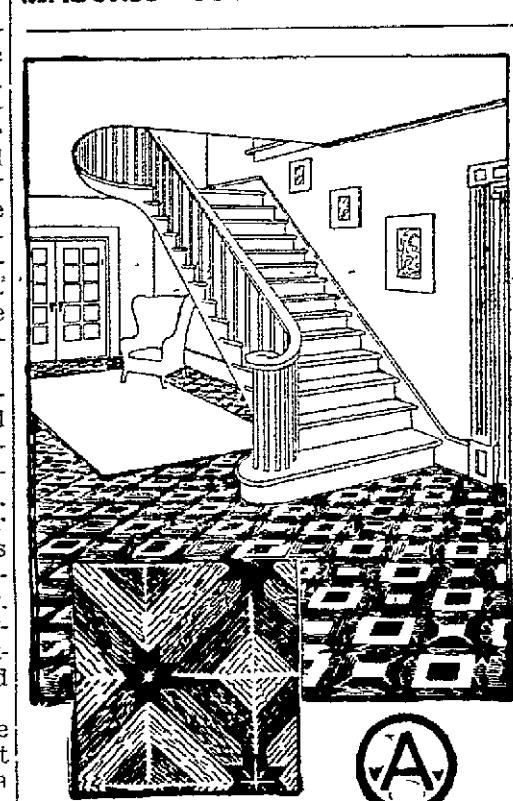

Although farm sales have been hurt somewhat this fall, by reason of certain agents running over the county, persuading farm owners to list with them that they had sure buyers for their properties at big prices, yet we have not been quite idle. We have sold farms this fall for a number of owners: A 101 acre farm for Norton Miller on the Hanover road to Geo. W. Waltman who resides nearby and is not afraid of values going down. A small farm at Goldenville Station for Jake Group to Rev. Flobo of Biglerville, another small farm near Bonneauville for S. Laughman to Levi Folk, who is also adding to his land holdings. A fine large farm on the Fairfield road for Eliza B. Stull to M. L. Metcalf of Franklin county who will move here in the spring. A fine large farm near Cashtown for Robt. Diehl to David J. Brown who has decided to quit renting and live on his own farm for a change. The William Deardorf farm of 165 acres 1 mile east of town to Bishop J. L. Brindle of Franklin county who will improve and reside there on in the spring. The same day we sold the John L. Eckert farm which we had listed for some time to Geo. L. Bear of Franklin county who will do some improving and eventually move here. We also sold for Lester E. Bowers a small farm 1 mile east of Gettysburg to Howard Bream who will quit farming and move in his new home in the spring. A 15 acre home west of Gettysburg for Oliver Currens to Frank Legore. An 86 acre farm for Dr. L. A. Roth to Jake Group of Biglerville. A 70 acre farm for Mary J. Rowe of Knoxlyn to C. C. Bream of Abbottstown. A 60 acre farm for Mrs. Matilda Barr of Guernsey. A number of other sales have been made by us which the owners have asked us not to advertise until later.

The owner of a fine farm about 1 mile from Biglerville has just listed it with us for quick sale. He gave us the following description: 118 acres, 12 of which are oak and hickory timber, 5 acres pasture and balance cultivated, land level and very slightly rolling, red soil, 25 bearing apple trees and other fruit, log weatherboarded house, outkitchen, wash house, fine bank barn 50 x 80 feet, wagon shed 40 x 20, hog pen, chicken house and other buildings, public road, crops average well. Owner wants to sell because he is getting up in years and has no help. Price $6000. If you haven't time to call, phone about it.

If you want a cheap stock and fruit farm we have 124 acres in Liberty township, stone house, bank barn and other buildings, water system, buildings practically new, very rolling, granite soil, cut 65 tons hay this year. The price is $4500 to first buyer—there is 18 acres of timber on this farm. Learn more about this one. If you don't want to move there we have a good renter for you who will farm the place.

Also farms in all parts of the county—better see us about them now before they are gone. We'll treat you right whether you buy or not.

ture of the income of the borough and a book-keeping required by which expenditures would be charged to the respective purposes of the budget and no authority given to exceed the budget except as Council would order, the borough housekeeping could be brought down to a business basis.

The new Town Council is asked to adopt the general manager system that has been pronounced the best method of town housekeeping. Stop the waste of everybody's business being nobody's business. Get to a system of business efficiency that will perhaps make it possible for the town to live within its present tax rate income.

A competent general manager constantly on job, or perhaps only half or two-thirds of a week on the job, with a few employes working under his supervision could accomplish wonders for the old town and place it in the very front rank as a well kept town in every department and in its business methods.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

"The citizens of Pennsylvania have countless reasons for rendering sincere thanks to the Supreme Ruler of the universe for the many material blessings which have been enjoyed during the past year. The fertile genius of our people has brought forth inventions, by the use of which the mighty forces of nature are utilized to lighten the physical burdens of man, and to promote comfort, health and happiness."

"No great calamity or epidemic has visited us to blight the peace and content of our people. Amiable relations have generally existed between the employer and employee, labor of every character and kind has been steadily employed, and the various products of industry have found ready markets."

Therefore, following a venerated custom, I, John K. Tener, governor of this commonwealth, do designate and set aside Thursday, November 27, 1913, as Thanksgiving day, and recommend that our usual places of worship be filled with a reverent and grateful people, praying Almighty God that the observance of the day may find favor in His sight, to the end that the future may know nothing but peace, prosperity and happiness."

Tribute to Congressman Brodbeck.

Leslie's Illustrated Weekly of Oct. 30, contains a half-tone portrait of Congressman A. R. Brodbeck. The portrait is on a page under the heading, "People Talked About," and the following tribute is paid to the Congressman:

"A Self-Made Man—Honorable Andrew R. Brodbeck, new Democratic Congressman from the Twentieth District of Pennsylvania, who began his business life as errand boy in a country store. He is now the big man of Hanover, where he lives, and it was his popularity there which sent him to Congress."
